1. The title of our slide show is Why? Because...
2. Look! It’s a mouse! The mouse is the cause. I wonder what effect will be...
3. The girl...
4. The girl saw the mouse. Now what will be the effect?
5. What happened when the girl saw the mouse? The girl jumped on the stool. That’s the effect.
6. Why did the girl jump on the stool? Because she was afraid of the mouse. That’s the cause.
7. A cause leads to a effect. The mouse caused the girl to jump on the stool, the effect.
8. Now let’s play a game. Which one is the cause? The girl jumped on the stool OR because she was afraid of the mouse?
   - Option 1: Press the sentence part that says she was afraid of the mouse. Look! We got a happy face. That was the cause! Now press the next arrow and we’ll do another one.
   - Option 2: Press the sentence part that says The girl jumped on the stool. Oh, no! We got a sad face. Let’s press the next arrow and try again. Which one is the cause? Let’s go with she was afraid of the mouse. Now we have a happy face. That was the cause!
9. (Slide 17) The light turned green.
10. (Slide 18) The kids crossed the street.
11. (Slide 19) The light turned green so the kids crossed the street. The light turning green is the cause and the kids crossed the street is the effect. The kids had to wait for the cause, the green light and then the effect of the green light was crossing the street.
12. (Slide 20) Let’s play our game. Which one is the cause?
   - Option 1: The light turned green. Let’s touch that part of the sentence. A happy face! The light turning green was the cause. Touch the arrow.
   - Option 2: The kids crossed the street. Oh, the sad face. Let’s touch the arrow and look for the cause again. Why did the kids cross the street? Because the light was green. That’s the cause. Now we have a happy face. Let’s touch the arrow.
13. Let’s look at this sentence. The kids crossed the street because the light turned green.
14. (Slide 28) Which one is the cause?
   - Continue to guide students in choosing the cause or effect
15. (Slide 34) Which one is the cause? My mom was tired when she read me a bedtime story so she fell asleep on my bed.
16. (Slide 37) Which one is the effect?
17. (Slide 40) Which one is the cause? I ran to school because I was late.
18. (Slide 43) Which one is the effect? I ran to school because I was late.
19. (Slide 46) Which one is the effect? The sun was hot outside so the man drank some water.
20. (Slide 49) Which one is the cause? The sun was hot outside so the man drank some water.
21. (Slide 52) Which one is the cause? The boy was late for school because he overslept.
22. (Slide 55) Which one is the effect? The boy was late for school because he overslept.
23. (Slide 58) Which one is the cause? The snowman dropped his gifts because he slipped on the banana.
24. (Slide 61) Which one is the effect? The snowman dropped his gifts because he slipped on the banana.
25. (Slide 64) Which one is the effect? The ice was too slippery so the man lost his balance.
26. (Slide 67) Which one is the cause? The ice was too slippery so the man lost his balance.
27. (Slide 70) Which one is the effect? The surfer left the beach because the sun was going down.
28. (Slide 73) Which one is the cause? The surfer left the beach because the sun was going down.
29. (Slide 76) THE END! Excellent job, kindergarten students. You did it!